From The Minister

Dale Galloway told a great story years ago in his book, Dream a New Dream. It is about a shy boy by the name of Chad.

One day Chad came home and said, “You know what, Mom? Valentine’s Day is coming and I want to make a valentine for everyone in my class.”

His mother’s heart sank and she thought, “Oh, how I wish he would not do that.” Because every afternoon she would watch all the children coming home from school, and they would be laughing and hanging onto each other, books under their arms, all except Chad. He always walked behind them. But she thought she would go along with Chad. So glue, paper and crayons were purchased. For three weeks Chad painstakingly made thirty-five valentines.

When the day came to deliver the valentines, he was so excited! This was his day. He stacked those valentines under his arm and he ran out the door. His mother thought, “You know, this is going to be a tough day for Chad. I’m going to bake some warm cookies and give him some milk when he comes home from school and maybe that will ease the pain. He probably won’t be getting very many valentines.”

That afternoon she had the warm cookies and the milk out on the table. She went over to the window and scratched a little bit of the frost off the glass and looked out. Sure enough, here came the big gang of children, laughing, valentines under their arms. They had really done well. And there was Chad, coming up behind. He was walking faster than usual and she thought, “Bless his heart, he is ready to burst into tears. His arms are empty.” He came in the house, and she said, “Darling, Mommy has some warm cookies and milk for you.” But his face was all aglow. He just marched right by her and all he could say was, “I didn’t forget a one – not a single one!”

heart sandwich

Show your love by making someone this heartfelt snack on Valentine's Day.

What you need:

- 2 slices of bread
- 2 heart-shaped cookie cutters (one large, one small)
- Lunchmeat and cheese (or peanut butter and jelly)

What you do:

1. Cut a large heart out of each slice of bread.
2. Cut a small heart from the middle of one big heart.
3. With the small cookie cutter, make several heart shapes out of the meat and cheese. Place between the bread slices.
4. If you're using peanut butter and jelly, spread both onto the large, solid heart. Then place the slice with the small heart cutout on top.
